Dear Sir/Madam,

SUBJECT: RECOMMENDATION FOR MS. PATIENCE ASIIMWE'S ENROLLMENT IN THE MASTERS IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

I am writing to offer my recommendation of Ms. Patience Asiimwe as a candidate for the Masters in Business Administration program at your esteemed institution. Having known Patience for over a decade and having closely observed her remarkable development as a university student, dedicated professional, and impactful contributor within the realm of Rotary, I am confident in her ability to excel in your program.

My initial introduction to Patience dates back to early 2013 when she was a promising student at Makerere University Business School. During my engagement with the Rotaract Club, I had the privilege of witnessing her poised demeanor and meticulous approach, qualities that set her apart even then. Her subsequent elevation to the role of Club President underscored her exceptional leadership acumen.

Amidst her academic pursuits, Patience concurrently undertook responsibilities as an Assistant Administrator at the Old Budonian Club. Notably, she managed to maintain a demanding work-study balance and achieved an upper second-class degree, a testament to her resolute professionalism and unwavering commitment to both her education and her role.

My collaboration with Patience has extended to various Rotary endeavors, culminating most recently in her tenure as the Secretary of the Rotary District Conference Fundraising Committee. During this time, I served as the committee chair, and her contributions proved instrumental. Additionally, her appointment as the District Rotaract Conference Chair for 2024 further exemplifies her dedication to leadership and community engagement.

Throughout our interactions, Patience consistently exuded an exceptional maturity beyond her years, coupled with a fervent passion for impactful leadership. Her participation in international Rotary Conferences and Conventions has enriched her perspective on global youth engagement and Rotary's growth trajectory. This exposure has fortified her aptitude for creative problem-solving and her adeptness in navigating diverse settings. Patience possesses impeccable communication skills, both oral and written, and is well-versed in utilizing various software and digital platforms for efficient work and communication.

Patience's academic achievements include a Second Class Upper (4.06) Honors degree in Business Statistics from Makerere University, reflecting her proficiency in analytical statistical methodologies essential for well-informed decision-making. Her role as a Resource Mobilization Officer at the Uganda Cancer Society underscores her adeptness in partnership management, grant acquisition, fundraising event coordination, donor relationship management, reporting, and health sector policy advocacy. These experiences have honed her strategic thinking, budgeting expertise, and adept project management capabilities.

In light of Patience's consistent demonstration of resilience, initiative, intellectual prowess, creativity, and resourcefulness, I wholeheartedly recommend her for enrollment in your distinguished Masters in Business Administration program. With her accomplished background in education, leadership, and professional undertakings, I am confident that Patience will significantly contribute to the program's academic rigor and dynamic discourse.

Should you require additional insights or further information regarding Patience's qualifications, please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Yours sincerely,

Robert Wagawa Nsibirwa
